From Maverix:

KnoxVegas has been a park over 2 and a half years in the making, and I am very excited to finally share it with you. Thank you to everyone who has helped me along this journey. I honestly can't believe it's finally time to release this thing. I hope you enjoy viewing the park as much as I enjoyed building it and cannot wait to see what you have to say. I know I've said Spotlight or bust the entire time building this park, but I've always, and will always, build for fun and the love of the game. Spotlight or not, I am very proud of this park and proud to final call KnoxVegas done!
